

The Old Ledford Chapel Cemetery Clay County, North Carolina

Established on lands originally owned by Peter G. Ledford, an early settler of what was then Cherokee County, North Carolina, the Old Ledford Chapel Cemetery was moved to its present location by the TVA during the construction of Lake Chatuge. These documents were created at this time by the TVA, and they contain information on those who were buried there. The location of all of the graves in the cemetery can be ascertained by this document, although many of them remain unmarked to this day. More detailed papers concerning each individual, sometimes listing the cause of death, dates of birth and death, and next of kin, are held by the National Archives and can be obtained from them.
